With lower prices for food products the Democrats will be deprived of the most promising of their campaign issues.

It is costing twenty times as much to live as it did a hundred years ago. But why can't we cheer up! Are not the most of us earning a hundred times as much as we did a hundred years ago?

The Canadian Manufacturer says that "protectionists who understand what their true interests are, cannot afford to shut their eyes to the fact that the tariff can never be taken out of politics."

The Third Assistant Postmaster General's report shows that during the last fiscal year 467,058 registered letters and parcels were transmitted through the mails in the state of Kentucky. This is a decrease of 36,009 as compared with the previous year. The fees amounted to $34,038. Kentucky appears to be advancing backward.

OKLAHOMA, the 46th state in the American constellation, is practically out of debt and next week the Government will pay into the Treasury of that new-born Commonwealth the sum of $5,000,000 in lieu of lands opened in the Indian Territory. Oklahoma was certainly born with a silver spoon in her mouth and a big bunch of money in her inside pocket, and Uncle Sam is quite proud of his beautiful and prosperous and youngest daughter.

Mr. BRYAN says that nine-tenths of the Republicans of this country are actually Democrats. Yet the election returns show that about two-thirds of the Democrats regularly vote the Republican ticket.—Kansas City Star.

THE matter of establishing postal savings banks is a progressive move strongly advocated by Postmaster General Myer. It would do much toward strengthening the resources of the country and millions of dollars would thus practically be under direct Government control, as each postal bank, would in effect, be a little sub-treasury in itself and would be the depository of the money now hoarded in old tin cans, feminine hosiery and other strange, unknown and unfrequented places.

TO GIVE THE PUBLIC LEDGER subscribers and advertisers some idea of the enormous advance in the price of print paper we have only to quote that paper has been down to $1.87 per hundred, freight added, in Cedar Rapids, and now it is $3 per hundred F. O. B. Cincinnati. This is over 100 per cent. increase in this one item of paper, and as THE PUBLIC LEDGER, newspaper and Printery, uses some 20,000 pounds of raw paper a year, it may well be understood that we are paying for 10,000 pounds of paper now that we got for nothing a few years ago. Notwithstanding this, the subscription and advertising rates remain the same that they were when paper was cheap.

THE TOUCHSTONE.

"Come on over and play in our yard."
"I thought your ma didn't allow you to play with me?"
"She does now. She has just heard that your pa has had his salary raised."

We Sell Vinol

on the positive guarantee that if it does not give satisfaction we will return the entire amount of money paid us for it. We mean this—and ask all those who are sick and need strength to try it with this understanding.

Mason Circuit Court.

The following gentlemen compose the Petit Jury for the present term—Edward Myall, J. T. Bradbury, Horace Clift, William Mattingly, Nicholas Gilp, Sr., John Leonard, Sam McNutt, R. G. Bullock, M. C. Hutchison, Albert Fulner, Andrew Hunter, M. E. McKellap, W. W. Gault, John Wallingford, John W. Boulden, Charles K. Hill, W. R. Key, Pat Comer, Lawrence McNamara, W. H. Yancey, George H. Dickson, Pat Breslin, John Bramel and W. H. Meenach.

The Grand Jury returned into Court, thirty-one indictments as follows—

The Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Bargoyne & Mitchell, four indictments for suffering and permitting gambling in a house under their control.

Thomas Ryan, five indictments for same offense.

Simon Crowell, two indictments for same offense.

Frank Eitel, four indictments for same offense.

Al Wallace, five indictments for gambling.

Claud Watkins, four indictments for gambling.

John Burk, one indictment for gambling.

George Newdigate, one indictment for gambling.

Billy Grierson, one indictment for gambling.

Stanton Clift, three indictments for gambling.

POWERS' JURY

Will Visit the Scene of the Goebel Murder Today—James Howard Taken to Georgetown

James Howard was taken to Georgetown yesterday for consultation by the defense of Caleb Powers. The jury, it has been agreed, will be taken to Frankfort today to view the scene of the Goebel tragedy.

Robert Noaks, who lived at Corbin, Ky., in 1900, and who now resides in Illinois, is a star witness for the Commonwealth, and was placed on the witness stand yesterday morning.

The defense attorneys asked witness if he was not arrested in Virginia, charged with conspiracy and of having been told by Commonwealth Attorney Franklin that the grand jury did not indict him. He said Charles Finley or one of the Powers brothers asked him to organize a body of men and go to Frankfort to intimidate the election commissioners. He took sixty-five men and allowed them to scatter about the grounds. "We were instructed to see that the Republicans got justice or hang the officials, and I told the men this," said Noaks.

He showed the muster roll, which was placed in evidence. He said these were the most desperate men he could find.

Simplicity's Saving Grace.
"I like simplicity," said Senator Beveridge. "Simplicity saves us a lot of trouble, too."

"Two men met in front of the Blank hotel the other day and fell into a political argument. They were ordinary, everyday sort of men, but one of them had an extraordinary flow of polysyllabic language. He talked half an hour, and his companion listened in a daze."

"And now," the speaker pompously concluded, "perhaps you will coincide with me?"

"The other's face brightened up. 'Why, yes; thanks, old man,' he answered heartily, moving toward the barroom door, 'I don't care if I do.'"

Privileges of Old Age.

Old age has its drawbacks, but it has also its privileges. Not the least of these is leisure; not idleness, for that way lie wretchedness and disintegration—but freedom from the stress of unlovely rivalry, and opportunity for the calm and moderate pursuit of congenial occupation. With its advent one may doff the armor, but not the apron, and choosing one's bench, work, not as a slave, but as a master.—Senator William P. Frye, in the Circle.

Voice of Protest.

"Who is that screaming so?" asked the Inveterate Shopper of the shop girl who had just come out of the room whence issued the screams. "It's a shoplifter," the girl replied. "She is declaring her innocence." "And is she innocent?" queried the Inveterate Shopper. "They had only unraveled ten yards of silk from her person when I left," the shop girl replied.

THE ELKS PIANO!

Used in the Memorial Service at the Opera-House Sunday, December 1st, 1907. Was a Specially Prepared Instrument. :::::

The extraordinary qualities of this instrument pleased a great concourse of people. Its virtues are freely extolled. This beautiful piano is now an "Elk" and should go into the home of an Elk to prove a lasting pleasure to some Elk and his family.

It is Set Aside for Some Elk and Marked About Half Price. First Elk Here Gets It. :::

The marked price upon this piano applies only to an Elk; only an Elk need apply. We have sacrificed to make this price, intending to get the piano into the home of an Elk. Elks, you have seen and heard this beautiful instrument.

First come, first served.

HAYSWOOD LECTURES. FIRST OF THE SERIES.

The lecture of Dr. A. N. Ellis Monday evening was listened to with intense interest from start to finish, and we regret that newspaper type cannot convey to the reader a vivid conception of the varied character of the discussion and the effect it produced. Tracing the origin of the hospital in the earliest times, and bringing it down to the day of Florence Nightingale, when, under the patronage of Queen Victoria, it took its present form, and interspersing his discourse with instructive, but timely anecdotes and aphorisms, he described the great London hospitals in chronological order, beginning with old St. Bartholomew's and closing with St. Thomas' and Guy's, the latter socially famous for its order of sisterhood derived chiefly from the highest ranks and composed almost wholly of daughters of the nobility and gentry. His observations in the anatomical museums of these hospitals had a peculiar interest for the historical student. We subjoin the beautiful passage with which the lecturer closed:

"Beautiful old Hayswood has always been a holy place. For many long years, dedicated to religion and education, from it have flown streams that have enlightened and benefited our people. It is now set aside for a home for the sick and an abiding place for instruction in the healing art. In closing these few hurried remarks, let me say that no one can succeed as a physician or a nurse (for one is the hand maid of the other) without going heart and soul into the work.

"Medicine is a jealous mistress and tolerates no rivals or side issues.

"There must be health, education, natural aptitude, perseverance, enthusiasm and a belief in humanity and trust in the future.

"All hail to old Hayswood!

"Like a city set upon a hill, her light cannot be hidden. May she ever spread her white wings to the East and the West, brooding like a nursing mother over our homes and tenderly caring for our stricken ones. And as long as the beautiful river shall wind her majestic flow amid the green hills and rich lands of this God-given border land, may the name and form of Mary Peals Wilson be enshrined in our hearts."

At Lexington Monday 100,000 pounds of tobacco were disposed of at from 7 to 14 cents.

RUSSELL TERMINALS

May Be Abandoned by the C. and O. and Another Place Selected as End of Division

Portsmouth Blade.

The story that the C. and O. people intend abandoning Russell as the end of the divisions for freight trains is not easy to put down. It has bobbed up again, this time in the shape of a clipping from a Hinton paper.

The spot chosen, according to the report, is to be midway between Cincinnati and Huntington, and while no names are mentioned, this fact is suggestive.

If any one will take a tape line and measure the distance between Cincinnati and Huntington, he will find that the half way point will fall just about South Portsmouth.

Of course that proposition would please South Portsmouth, and North Portsmouth even better.

The company has never been satisfied with Russell as a site for terminals, and it was positively stated at one time that Russell was to be abandoned.

LEWISBURG.

Rev. R. F. Broadus of Washington, Ky. delivered his lecture, subject "Half Made Man," at M. E. Church here Wednesday evening to a crowded house. Rev. Broadus is a fine speaker and held the audience spellbound for an hour and a half. He showed the disadvantages of a half prepared man or woman in all lines of business. The lecture was well received and we would be glad to have him again.

SPRINGDALE.

Mr. J. W. Tully of Lewis county was here Thursday.
 Mr. J. S. Dogman made a business trip to Maysville Wednesday.
 Mr. E. N. Dentley of Tollesboro was a business visitor here recently.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Jenkins are down from Portsmouth visiting relatives.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Goodwin spent Thanksgiving with friends in Maysville.
 Mr. C. L. Carr of the Bull Creek neighborhood is seriously sick with the measles.
 Miss Goodwin dismissed school Wednesday and spent Thanksgiving with her parents at Rectortville.
 Mrs. Sara A. Smith is at home after spending a month with her niece, Mrs. G. W. Hook, at Brookside.
 Messrs. G. W. Hook and Robert Girvin have finished their contract for Mr. Bradford at Tollesboro and are at home.
 Messrs. Wesley Harrison and James Hamrick of Louisville were here last week en route to Vanceburg. Mr. Hamrick is State Counselor for the Junior Order.
 Mr. Floyd P. Tully and Miss Retha Saunders were married at the home of the bride at Plummer's Landing, Fleming county, November 25th. Mr. Tully is a prominent business man of Manchester, Ohio. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Aaron Saunders, one of Fleming county's leading citizens. She is a lady of rare beauty and a charming personality that endears her to the hearts of every one. May their life together be as bright and pleasant as was the sunshine of the days of their marriage and homecoming.
 Paducah will have a local option election early in the new year.

Commercial Tribune—Mrs. Baker Wood returned to her home in Maysville, Ky., Sunday, and Mrs. A. J. Curran left last evening for her home in Valeria, O. after spending Thanksgiving with their sister, Mrs. Fred L. Hoffman, of Madison road. Mrs. Hoffman's mother, Mrs. Robert Kirk, of Maysville, will remain for an indefinite period.

MRS. ETNA PRATHER POOLE.

Mrs. Etna Prather Poole formerly a resident of Fleming county, died at her home in Olney, Ill., on November 26th of typhoid pneumonia. Her husband, Mr. David Poole, who died in 1891, was a former State Senator from Rochester, Butler county, Ky.
 The interment took place at Olney.
 Deceased was well known in this county and was an aunt of Mrs. C. E. Martin of this city.

OUR MARTYR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.
 (An impassioned appeal to the Sixtieth American Congress)

I.
 Three martyrdoms mark bereavements,
 The horror spreads out thinly;
 Three removals bask'd achievements,
 Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley.
 The martyrs speak from crypt walls,
 Drive outlaws out, their presence galls,
 Aye, down them in Niagara Falls.
 The martyrs' prayers, not party walls—
 O, safeguard life else Freedom fails!

II.
 The anarchists blight Arcady,
 Congress knows and that right well;
 From New Jersey to Nevada,
 Bandits stalk on mission fell.
 The problem grave and peril dire,
 Drive outlaws out, nor driving tire,
 Aye, burn them in Mount Pelee's fire.
 The martyrs' prayers to Congress Halls—
 O, safeguard life else Suffrage stalls!

III.
 O, Congress Halls, pray remember,
 Bandits are most pestilent;
 First enactment for December,
 Safeguard for the President.
 Good people mourn the martyrs slain,
 Drive outlaws out, the duty plain,
 Aye, ban them and their bloody reign.
 The martyrs' prayers for action wise—
 O, safeguard life else Justice dies!

—CAPT. DAVID A. MURPHY.
 Oxford, O., December 24, 1907.

James H. Thompson has been appointed Postmaster at Blueick Springs.

The Southern Educational Association will convene in Lexington December 26th, 27th and 28th.

Herbert Montgomery, a C. and O. brakeman living at Ashland, returned home Monday from hunting, placed his gun on the porch, and in turning around kicked it over and the weapon was discharged. Montgomery's sister Ruby, aged 12, was coming in the gate, and the shot tore away the top of her head. She fell lifeless into the arms of a little girl friend.

Men's, Young
Men's & Boys' CLOTHING

This store fulfills the highest possible mission of a modern retail establishment, in fact, our ambition is not so much to have the biggest business as it is to have the best business in the city. If bigness comes, as it often does from a policy of creating a new standard of quality, then we accept bigness as the result of our efforts rather than the object of them. If you want distinction in your clothes, a style and pattern that will separate you from ordinary dressers, appearance that gives an air of refinement, there is but one store to visit.

Our Shoe Sales

Are Greater Than All the Combined Sales of Others
 Who SELL SHOES IN MAYSVILLE.

There is a reason for this. We can show you better than we can tell you. Mr. Cohen has just made some enormous purchases for spot cash. Ladies, let us show you our Tan Welt Shoes in lace and button. We will sell you as good a Shoe as you pay $4 for at $2.99 as long as they last. We have many sizes left of the Red Cross Shoes for Ladies; we sell them for $2.69. You had better take a look at

DAN COHEN'S

Great Western Shoe Store.
